De Gogorza-Miller Recitai.

To those who find real pleasure in beautiful songs sung by real artists to whom the song interpretation is as important as the tone expression, the joint recital given by Mr. Emilio de Gogorza and Miss Christine Miller, at the New National Theater yesterday afternoon, was a genuine treat. It was the first of the widely heralded "Ten Star Concert Series" announced by T. Arthur Smith, and both from the standpoint of patronage and artistic accomplishment augurs well for the concerts that are to follow.

Mr. de Gogorza is an eminent singer, with a clear, beautiful baritone, who is master of the art of song interpretation. There is nothing of effort in his work, into which he seems to enter hand. Fred S. Bishop. Also Disposes of Other Property.
